1. Background ¶

It is important that governors and staff not only act impartially, but are also seen to act impartially. Members of the Lincolnshire Strategic Board (local governing body) and school staff have a responsibility to avoid any conflict between their business and personal interests and affairs and those of the school. There is a legal duty on all governors and school staff to declare an interest likely to lead to questions of bias when considering any item of business at a meeting and for the governor and member of school staff concerned to withdraw, if necessary, whilst the matter is considered.

To help put this duty into practice, a governing body is required to establish and maintain a register of pecuniary interests indicating, for all governors headteacher and school staff, any business interests including relationships. This should include, if appropriate, the company by whom they are employed, directorships, significant shareholdings or other appointments of influence within a business or other organisation which may have dealings with the school. They should include their own interest and those of any member of their immediate family (including partners) or other individuals known to them who may exert influence. The register will enable governors to demonstrate that in spending public money they or members of staff do not benefit personally from decisions that they make.

It is specifically the clerk's responsibility to maintain the register of business interests, however it is the responsibility of each individual governor or member of staff to declare their interest. The register is not a substitute for declaring an interest at meetings. There should be notification of changes from governors, as appropriate, and through an annual review of entries.
